

FST Consent Form for anonymous online survey:

Please note – the details included in your consent form should reflect your particular research approach. For example, if you are using an anonymous on-line survey, some sections of the regular sample consent form are redundant, and you may wish to consider using a reduced version, such as below. Again, this should be amended to match what you are intending to do. If you are unsure, please discuss this further with your supervisor.

By proceeding to the survey you confirm that:

- You have read the participant information sheet and understand what is expected of you within this study
- You understand that any responses/information you give will remain anonymous
- Your participation is voluntary
- You consent for the information you provide to be discussed with my supervisor at Lancaster University
- You consent that the data will be pooled and published and that if quotes are provided they could be published
- You consent to Lancaster University keeping the anonymised data for a period of 10 years after the study has finished
- By clicking on this link, you consent to taking part in the current study.
